

Figure I.3. Confounding effect of selective mortality as a result of which age changes are not revealed in cross-sectional studies. See Fig. 1 for explanation of line segments. A lethal limit that varies with age is assumed. In this case the dashed line would show no age differences, although large age changes in individuals had occurred.